HOW WE CAN HELP

If you have been a victim of timeshare fraud or misrepresentation, The Owners' Advocate will assist you with the cancellation of your timeshare contract and, in many cases, facilitate a full refund of the money you've already paid out.

If you feel like you've been tricked, misled, or conned into purchasing or upgrading a timeshare or vacation ownership, chances are you're right; but you're not alone. Did you know you are among thousands of owners in recent years that have been persuaded to purchase through blatant deceptive sales practices?

This is not your fault. You most likely believed you were doing something economically beneficial for yourself and your family, based on information provided to you at the sales presentation by the charismatic sales or "member services" representative who was well-versed in the art of gaining your trust.

Now you've probably wised up and you rue the day you got involved. You probably want to cut your losses and get out from under the burden of the monthly payments, increasing maintenance fees and assessments, but no one seems to be able to tell you how, or even if, you can.

By now, you've no doubt heard about "renting" or "selling" your timeshare as options to help you offset your costs. We strongly advise all consumers to use caution when approaching this market. The Owners' Advocate has received many complaints about companies soliciting consumers with promises of "quick and easy relief" from obligations associated with timeshare or vacation ownership. Often at a substantial financial loss, consumers find that they have been intentionally misled yet again.

Don't spend another minute battling your timeshare company alone; The Owners' Advocate has the time, resources, and knowledge to assist you in the cancellation of your timeshare contract.
